Emergency Response & Human Services

Disaster Debris Removal · Relief Operations · Community Integration Support — NAICS 624230 / 624190

About Us

SolutionsAe works the two halves of a disaster: clearing what the event left behind, and supporting the people it displaced. For the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers we removed storm debris from special properties across Laurens and Ben Hill Counties after Hurricane Helene, expanding mid-performance to root ball removal and additional leaning hazard work as the damage assessment grew.

On the human services side we supported the Department of Homeland Security's Afghan Community Integration Support Services during Operation Allies Welcome, connecting parolees to the services behind long-term stability, and we hold a five-year family support services engagement with Georgia's Division of Family and Children Services. Debris clearance and the case work that follows it, from one contractor.

Core Competencies

- Disaster debris removal
- Root ball and hazard tree removal
- Right-of-way debris clearance
- Emergency crew mobilization
- Community integration support
- Case coordination and referral
- Family and children's services
- Program administration and reporting

Why Agencies Bring Us In

- Both halves of a response. Debris clearance and the human services that follow, without standing up a second contractor.
- Scope that grows with the damage. The Helene contract was modified in performance to add root ball removal and additional leaning hazard work.
- Surge-tested. The DHS engagement supported Operation Allies Welcome at a point when national capacity, not funding, was the binding constraint.
- Long-duration performance. The Georgia DFCS engagement runs a five-year period of performance through February 2026.

How We Mobilize

- Crews staged and working within days of task order issue
- Direct coordination with the contracting office and the installation or county
- Scope changes handled by modification rather than a new procurement

Geographic Reach

Debris operations across middle and south Georgia under USACE Savannah District, family support services statewide in Georgia, and community integration support delivered at national scope for DHS. We are actively expanding our presence in Middle Tennessee.
